

Won't Stop Loving You

Kevin Costner & Modern West

I still wake up every mornin'
You're the first thing to cross my mind
I still smell your sweet perfume in the early afternoon
And that mountain wind comes blowing through the pines
You're the only thing 'round here I'm holding on to

'Cause my heart won't
No, my heart won't
No, my heart just won't stop loving you

I catch you in the shadows of the valley
I hear the river whispering your name
I gave up letting go a long, long time ago
I've gotten used to living with the pain
There ain't no way your memory's ever cutting me loose

'Cause my heart won't
Oh, my heart won't
No, my heart just won't stop loving you

Well, it's never gotten over being broken
I've done everything I know to do
Your memory surrounds me
It's the only mountain I can't move

'Cause my heart won't
Oh, my heart won't
Oh, my heart just won't stop loving you

Well, it's never gotten over being broken
I've done everything I know to do
Your memory surrounds me
The only mountain I can't move

So my heart won't
No, my heart won't
No, my heart just won't stop loving you
