Hard Work

Kevin Garrett

Tried to leave you
Tried to leave you again
I was sleeping
While you were phoning it in
If you would call me today
I would still call you the same things
But I don't mean to
I don't mean to unless it

Gets you a little bit closer
Now I'm getting ahead of myself
Grow up when I get older
Maybe I should know better by now

I miss the thought of you and nothing else
But I probably don't know what the hell I am talking about
Why can't I let go
Why do I let you in
When you're just an echo
Why do I still work hard for it

Yeah yeah, I wanna love you
Yeah yeah, I wanna love
Yeah yeah, I wanna love you
Yeah yeah, I wanted love

Tried to need you
Tried to need you less
'Cause I can see through it
I can see through your mess but

I need a little more closure
Convinced that it's good for my health
You couldn't get any colder
Why don't I know better by now?

I miss the thought of you and nothing else
But I probably don't know what the hell I am talking about
Why can't I let go
Why do I let you in
When you're just an echo
Why do I still work hard for it
When you're just an echo
Why do I still work hard for it

When it all falls apart
When it's not in the cards
I will keep working hard
When it all falls apart
I will keep working hard

I miss the thought of you and nothing else
But I probably don't know what the hell I am talking about
Why do I let you in
Why do I still work hard for it

Why do I let you in

I wanna love you
I wanna love
I wanted love
