

Same Team

Kevin Ross

It's been crazy to both of us, babe
We're not talking, just contemplating
Reading you is like a different language
Can't explain what it is
But it's different than it was before
And I hold myself accountable
Now it's like we're keeping score
What's mine and what's yours

I think sometimes we forget that we're both on the same team
I know sometimes I forget that we're both on the same team
I'ma hold you down
Baby, lift me up
I'ma make you proud
Let me build that trust
And always know we're on the same
Just know we're on the same

Standing my ground is feeling like more of a landslide
What we say now is like cutting each other with hand knives
I get tired of matching all the energy
I'm your best friend, not your enemy
Baby, your pain's not a win for me
Been my first choice like a window seat
Just tryna see where your head is at
It's true
I gotta think before I react
Who knew?
A part of me is always attached to you
For bad or good

I think sometimes we forget that we're both on the same team
I know sometimes I forget that we're both on the same team
I'ma hold you down (Hold you down)
Baby, lift me up (Lift me up, baby)
I'ma make you proud
Let me build that trust
And always know we're on the same
Just know we're on the same
