

Who Knew

Kevon Edmonds

I guess that you could say that I've been 'round this block before
About a thousand times or maybe even more
And I guess that you could say a player like me has had my share
But loving ain't always fair
But somehow I locked up, 'cause now I wake up to the the most beautiful woma n I know
And she sees right through my soul
And if someone asks me what I did to deserve your love that's worth more tha n gold
I just say I don't know

'Cause who knew
That you would be what I need
And you would be my everything
When God made you He thought of me
Who knew
That you would be my bestfriend
That you would wear my ring
That you would share my lastname
Who knew
Who knew
Yeah yeah

It's funny how the priceless took a lifetime just to find (yeah)
Well lucky I've lived in time (oh)
That's why I'm gonna share my forever and a day with you
Filled with hope and true
But somehow I locked up, 'cause now I wake up to the the most beautiful woma
n I know
She sees right through my soul
If someone asks me what I did to deserve your love - worth more than gold
I just say I don't know

'Cause who knew
That you would be what I need
That you would be my everything
When God made you He thought of me
Who knew
That you would be my bestfriend
That you would wear my ring
That you would share my lastname
Who knew
Who knew
Who knew life could be so good
And then I get to love the way I wish I could
But never did to you
Who knew you would be the key
To making me happy
And setting my heart free

Who knew
That you would be what I need
That you would be my everything
When God made you He thought of me
Who knew
You would be my bestfriend
That you would wear my ring

That you would share my lastname
Who knew
Oh no
Who knew
