

I wasn't ready but I had to go
I don't regret it, I just wish I'd known
All happened so fast like a nuclear reaction
You said it's over like it's okay
Like I should have known that it would be this way
It all happened so fast, I had no time to take action

But I know, tomorrow, I wake up, when the sun comes up
I'm better without you
I'm gonna take my shot, when I'm back on top
I'm better without you
And I'll say things, you'll hear me
'Cause you'll be in the crowd
And I'll keep looking down
At you there on the ground
Crawling

You bang on your drum, so outta time
Your serpentine picks out your dirty lies
Just looking for cash, you and your vultures
Banging for blood just like a pack of wolves
Won't do it face to face, although you know you should
Your solo at class but I guess that's your culture

But I know, tomorrow, I wake up, when the sun comes up
I'm better without you
I'm gonna take my shot, when I'm back on top
I'm better without you
And I'll say things, you'll hear me
'Cause you'll be in the crowd
And I'll keep looking down
At you there on the ground
Crawling

You watch me ride on oxygen
Now watch me fly on golden wings
I'm up so high, you cannot see
Me looking down at you there
Crawling, I watch you crawling

I watch you crawling
I watch you crawling
I watch you crawling
I watch you crawling