

Electric Love

KeyWest

I feel the static in the air tonight
It's all around us and it feels so right with you
I know you feel it too
Then something happens when you touch my hand
Some kind of magic I don't understand
It's true
I know you feel it too
And if you were a bottle with a broken top
I'd still drink down every drop

'Cause loving you is like barbed wire
It's like I'm burning in a white hot fire
Like running in a nightmare
Or standing in a lightning storm
I can't describe it
It's like electric love
I can't deny it
You're so electric, love

I feel the lust running through my veins
I need your touch before I go insane, it's true
I know you need it too
If you were a poison you would taste so sweet
So pour a shot glass out for me

Loving you is like barbed wire
It's like I'm burning in a white hot fire
Like running through a nightmare
Or standing in a lightning storm
I can't describe it
It's like electric love
I can't deny it
You're so electric, love

You're so electric, love
You're so electric, love
You're so electric, love
You're so electric, love
You're so electric, love

You're so electric, love
