

Jigsaw Heart

KeyWest

Lying side by side
With your face so close to mine
I can feel you breathe
So I listen to you sleep
And I wonder what you're dreaming
As I lie there silently

Still feel so dazed and confused
I never win, but I don't lose
And I wonder why
I know I should leave you behind
But I keep coming back each time
And always leave a little bruised

I need to find some reason
Some meaning for my feelings
Before the fire starts
'Cause we keep making sparks behind the secrets
Behind my missing pieces
I'm stumbling in the dark
For little broken parts

Can you mend my jigsaw heart, heart?
I'm in a thousand pieces that don't seem to fit
Heart, heart
You're the missing piece that makes my life complete

With your beautiful eyes
And your beautiful mind
Only you can talk me down
I never asked to wear this crown
But I promise you right now
Our sun will never go down
Oh

I need to find some reason
Some meaning for my feelings
Before the fire starts
Because we keep making sparks behind the secrets
Behind my missing pieces
I'm stumbling in the dark
For little broken parts

Can you mend my jigsaw heart, heart?
I'm in a thousand pieces that don't seem to fit
Heart, heart
You're the missing piece that makes my life complete

We can live forever
Do you feel the energy?
Walk with me and ever
Come and take away all my fear

Heart, heart
