

It's All Good

Khalid

I walked out the front door
You said you didn't want me anymore, you meant that You said it with your chest
Caught me on a bad day
They say I'll get over the trauma
But there's certain things that you just don't forget

I wish I could burn it all
And light all of your shit on fire
Set the world ablaze just like a cigarette
Underneath the waterfall
That's where I wash away the grievances you can't escape
You're my biggest regret

But it's all good
Yeah, all these years, all these tears
But it's all good
'Cause you'll just sell your dreams to someone who will believe you, and act
like it's all good
Yeah, all these years, all these tears
But it's all good
'Cause you'll just sell your dreams to someone who will believe

Almost like I'm done for
I wonder if you even cared at all, you say you did
With your empty words
Only seem to cut me deep
Just like a dagger to my stomach as you watch me bleed
Is this what I deserve?

It's all good
Yeah, all these years, all these tears
But it's all good
'Cause you'll just sell your dreams to someone who will believe you, and act
like it's all good
Yeah, all these years, all these tears
But it's all good
'Cause you'll just sell your dreams to someone who will believe

And when you're next to him, touchin' him
Tell me, do you think of me?
And when you're next to him, touchin' him
Tell me, do you think of me?
And when you're next to him, touchin' him
Tell me, do you think of me?
And when you're next to him, touchin' him
Tell me, do you think of me?

It's all good
Yeah, all these years, all these tears
But it's all good
'Cause you'll just sell your dreams to someone who will believe you, and act
like it's all good
Yeah, all these years, all these tears
But it's all good
'Cause you'll just sell your dreams to someone who will believe you, and act
like it's all good
