

Into darkness, beginning to fear for my life
These horrors unknown
Trapped in here everyday, I'm blinded to the light
When my world falls apart and my shelter is razed
Like a kingdom undone
Feel madness taking hold, it's agony I crave

Summon me to the altar for a worship born of flesh and bone
Illusions ask me to atone
Unholy sacrament that seals the pact as venom fills my veins
I am bound by sacred chains

By the moonlight claw my way into the starless catacomb
Offering myself to sorrow
Blind and damned

Mind recedes as corruption takes hold of my limbs
Rotten marrow within
I cannot recognize the face appearing now
I am screaming for life but my tongue won't obey
My throat is choked with decay
Numbness envelopes me, no gods to hear my plea

Summon me to the altar for a worship born of flesh and bone
Illusions ask me to atone
Unholy sacrament that seals the pact as venom fills my veins
I am bound by sacred chains

Trapped in my mind as I stumble forth, the walls are caving in Silencing the mournful din
I'm left behind, a beacon for the setting sun
Knowing what I've done
