

Night Light

Kid Quill

Turn on your radio baby, listen to my song
Turn on your night light baby baby, I'm gone
Turn on your radio baby, listen to my song
Turn on your night light baby baby, I'm gone

No lie we made this for release day
Yeah this song right here my keepsake
I wish I dropped it as a mixtape
But a young college grad's gotta get paid, I'm sorry love
But they still got my shit on replay
I woke up grinning it's a good day
They used to call me a cheapskate
I went and did it by myself so I'm a split the check me ways
Hold up
I'm coming home for the summer
My city happy I'm home
Tried to hit up my ex
But she done changed up her phone
And if something happen to me
Yeah just put on this song
I swear this one for the people that believe all along
Ok this song right here my secret
I really hope that you can keep it
Cause I don't like fighting for no reason
Yeah I just made this whole outro for the two of us
We need it, yeah hold up

Turn on your radio baby, listen to my song
Turn on your night light baby baby, I'm gone
Turn on your radio baby, listen to my song
Turn on your night light baby baby, I'm gone
Man they told me I couldn't do this
Man they told me I couldn't do this
Man they told me I wouldn't do this
So now they hate to see me do it

Ok I made this cause we need it, we really need it
Every bar's got a powerline no wonder why my street lit
I hope the mayor hear this
Man he gon' show up to the crib with a key to the city
And be like here 'dis
This year I'm focused on a better me
Man I done a got a fun few years that's ahead of me
Thank you God
But if I let it get away from me
Then this one for my fans, friends and family
When they bury me
Yeah I'm gone

I don't know where life's going but soon it won't be long
I know the wind that's blowing help's me carry on Turn on your radio baby, baby listen to my song
Turn on your night light baby, baby I'm

Man they told me I wouldn't do it
Man they told me I wouldn't do it
Man they told me I wouldn't do this

Man they told me I wouldn't do it
So I just had to go and do it
