

Never Go to Work Again

Kilians

I, I never gonna understand,
You seem to have your whole life planned
Without ever being part of it.

And they, they never gonna realize
Why you would pay the highest price
Just to get back at me.

And you, you would never had to fantasize,
Just being part of human exercise,
But never being free.

And they will always reach out for your helping hand,
Will always reach out for your helping hand,
You wouldn't even see.

And I, I will never go to work again,
You should better go, you should better go.
And I, I will never go to work again,
You should better go, you should better go.

And you, you would never had a compromise,
You go on, you go on and try.
And they will only let you off and die,
And they will never hear you say,
'cause they will disagree.

And I, I will never go to work again,
You should better go, you should better go.
And I, I will never go to work again,
You should better go, you should better go.

And I, I will never go to work again,
You should better go, you should better go.
And I, I will never go to work again,
You should better go, you should better go.

I will never go to work again, you should better go,
you should better go,
You should better go, you should better go, you should better go,
You should better go.
