

You See the Devil

Kilians

You're taking it for surprise, the fires are glowing,
And all you're acting so wise it stops me from knowing it all.

Now the lights went out in your town,
And your dreams about the silence, full of doubt.

Oh, you see the devil hiding out in a foreign landscape
And you are the devil running round in my old place, my old place.

Now the lights went out in your town,
And your dreams about the silence, full of doubt.
You've been fooled all around.
And your dreams about the silence with you out.

Now the lights went out in your town,
And your dreams about the silence, full of doubt.
You've been fooled all around,
And the lights went out in your town, in your town.
