

Break Your Bones

Kill Paradise

Hello miss do you have the time?
I've lost my watch, but I have my mind
And while your watching time go by,
I'd like to ask you how it feels to die.

Where am I now?
Where are you now?
Counting all your wishes.
What a head rush
In the field rush
Fishing for your kisses.

(And we all fall so hard, we fall so hard).

So break break break, break your bones tonight
Trust me if you do
You will feel just fine
So take gold chains, take that chance tonight.
Trust me if you do,
You will feel just fine.

So put em up and scream it loud.
And when your done put on the grasp,
Cause summer comes when it goes?
Where she at no one knows,
Fix your hair and strike a pose.
Glory in it goes.

What can I do to make it through?
What can I do to make it through?
What can I do?
What can I do?
What can I do?

(And we all fall so hard, we fall so hard)

So break break break, break your bones tonight
Trust me if you do
You will feel just fine.
So take gold chains, take that chance tonight.
Trust me if you do,
You will feel just fine.

So put em up and scream it loud.
And when your done put on the grasp,
Cause summer comes when it goes?
Where she at no one know,
Fix your hair and strike a pose.
Glory in it goes.

So break break break, break your bones tonight
Trust me if you do
You will feel just fine.

So take gold chains, take that chance tonight.
Trust me if you do,
You will feel just fine.

So put em up and scream it loud.
And when your done put on the grasp,
Cause summer comes when it goes?
Where she at no one know,
Fix your hair and strike a pose.
Glory in it goes.

So break break break, break your bones tonight
Trust me if you do
You will feel just fine.
So take gold chains, take that chance tonight.
Trust me if you do,
You will feel just fine.

So put em up and scream it loud.
And when your done put on the grasp.
