

Through The Night

Kill The Lights

Look into the darkness all I see is pain Give me something to believe in Take me from the shadows smother all my screams
Nothing left to bleed

Nothing left but broken promises
Staring in the mirror and I feel so hopeless
Hearts open drowning in the sickness
Demons in my head and I just can't fix it

Tear me open leave me broken
Drown the lights and kill this nightmare
In the darkness I fight just to get through the night consuming
our hearts
Tear me open leave me broken
Drown the lights and kill this nightmare
In the darkness I fight just to get through the night consuming
our hearts

My whole world is over
What have I become?
I find I'm running from myself
Take these eyes and make them see
Help me understand my pain

Tear me open leave me broken
Drown the lights and kill this nightmare
In the darkness I fight just to get through the night consuming
our hearts
Tear me open leave me broken
Drown the lights and kill this nightmare
In the darkness I fight just to get through the night consuming
our hearts

There nothing left but revenge
Your shattered world can't pretend
To be the savior to this broken and fucked up world
The splinters puncture our hands
We numb the lies we pretend
That nothing matters but this broken and lonely disease

Tear me open leave me broken
Drown the lights and kill this nightmare
In the darkness I fight just to get through the night consuming
our hearts
Tear me open leave me broken
Drown the lights and kill this nightmare
In the darkness I fight just to get through the night consuming

our hearts
