

Unmoved

Kill The Lights

I'm buried in the darkness of the night
Surrounded by your ghost
We never wanted to say it's over
But all our hope is gone

Give me a pill to swallow
The mirrors turn to black
The spiders weave their lies
Tell me I'm still worth something

I'm dying in the echoes of my mind
The whispers never end
I will not drown in silence
My battle never ends
Give me a place to run to
Your hands around my neck
My body shakes with fear
Help me I can't stop bleeding

I'm running from myself again
Sinking deep inside this hell
Give me the strength to fight on
You never said that I would break
Drowning on my own again
Smother the dead and broken

I'm crawling in the dirt you call my grave
I lay myself to waste
I feed the sin that haunts me I drink away the taste

I'm running from myself again
Sinking deep inside this hell
Give me the strength to fight on
You never said that I would break
Drowning on my own again
Smother the dead and broken

I'm running from myself again
Sinking deep inside this hell
Give me the strength to fight on
You never said that I would break
Drowning on my own again
Smother the dead and broken

Give me a pill to swallow
Tell me I'm still worth something