

Wake Up Sheep

Kill Your Idols

Do you really think you have free speech can you really be that dumb? if you were a real threat you'd see you're under their thumb it's so easy to scream about injustice when you scream to your own kind but in the public eye I think you would change your mind Because that's when you would see you're really not so free just so insignificant that they choose to let you be but if you made alot of noise and if you caused a stir you can bet they would take notice and you they would come after CHORUS: because they are above the law (4x)
