

Melting of My Marrow

Killer Be Killed

I have to take the turn
Sink hooks and nails so I'll return
And it could get me every time
But I must taste fire
Infectious is the flame that burns

We are what we are, death unto us all
We are what we are, death unto us all

We are holding back the reigns
We forge down the road less traveled
I'll beware of the snake, with eyes closed
Revealing what's in front of me

But I'll slow down for you
And if you can speed up we'll both share something new
'Cause I've grown tired of hiding half-truths
Full pictures are the harshest ones to view

We are what we are, death unto us all
We are what we are, death unto us all

We are holding back the reigns
We forge down the road less traveled
I'll beware of the snake, with eyes closed
Revealing what's in front of me

And it felt like time was really fast, and life was slow
And it felt like time was really fast, and life was slow!

(Master!) Would you kill me if I asked you?
(Reaper!) Let it bleed and kill me faster
(Master!) In rejection, in affliction
(Reaper!) No protection, no disguises

I have to take the turn
Sink hooks and nails so I'll return
And it could get me every time
But I must taste fire
Infectious is the flame that burns!

We are what we are, death unto us all
We are what we are, death unto us all

We are holding back the reigns
We forge down the road less traveled
I'll beware of the snake, with eyes closed
Reveal what's inside of me

(We are) We are what we are
Death unto us all
We are what we are (Revealing what's inside of me)
Death unto us all
