

Time will not stand still
Today is the day, the day of salvation
Living for more than just
A synthetic force fed existence

This is my disposition
I will strive for the truth

Time will not stand still
Today is the day, the day of salvation
Living for more than just
A synthetic force fed existence

This is my disposition
I will strive for integrity

Time will not stand still
We are the soilborn
We are the children
Soilborn

Washed in blood because we are blind
We must not take this life for granted
In this everlasting thirst
To maintain vitality

This is my disposition
I will strive for a rebirth

We are the soilborn
Soilborn

Today is the day of salvation
Today is the day of salvation
