

INTELLIGENT DESIGN

Kilo Kish

Look at the fuss
They'd have us inching up
To rather cataclysmic fates
Imagine them lookin' at us
No stars to wish upon
None left in city or, or in state

I get up
Just to say
I still want what this is now
I get up
Just to say
It's still what you're all about

Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!
The puzzle pieces will rack your mind
Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!
Just a symbol of intelligent design

Working away
They'll tell you make your name
Still running round with your wings cut
Imagine us billowing up
The DNA interrupted
On a planet far, far away

I get up
Just to say
I still want what this is now
I get up
Just to say
It's still what you're all about

Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!
The puzzle pieces will rack your mind
Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!
Just a symbol of intelligent design

Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!
The puzzle pieces will rack your mind
Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!
Just a symbol of intelligent design

Pertinent to chasms
When TV's said "hope is absent"
Gods resort to violence
And man on earth resort to silence
God came down from herald of clouds
To shake us around
With the life to defend
And where were you then?

O ye nation of high peoples
Looking through their little peep holes
Blaring bullshit from their steeple
Glaring truths and still can't reach you

Nature made us into prophets
Nature made, have we forgotten?
Going live and we can't stop now
Hello baby, hello mama

They say, if you work then you can profit
Universe inside your pocket
Hello there!
Still can't find yourself anywhere
