

Prodigal Son

Kim Burrell

What happen to the days when we use to talk
In my ears I hear every word you say
Was it my own mistake
Mistake that pushed me out the door
I said wouldn't be back no more
You told me you love me and you still care
You said You'd always be there
Rebellion make believe decide to do my own thing
So ashamed inside selfish pride to blame
Not that my eyes could see what my heart believed what ears sho uldn't be
I need shelter for my soul

So I'm sing, ooh
Don't leave me out in the cold, oh no
Ooh, don't leave me (for) waiting so long
I know I was wrong
I know I was so wrong, ooh

What happen to the times when we use to walk
Hand in hand I'm following The Spirit would guide
Ooh, how could I have been so blind
My blinded eyes wouldn't let me see
What You saw what be best for me
But You told me You wouldn't let me go of my hand
Thought I explained to stand
But temptation let me far stretch into the night
Naked sins to bare I need a place to hide
I search inside only to see how you looked at me as you died on Calvary
I know I've been here once before

So I'm sing, ooh
Don't leave me out in the cold, oh no
Ooh, don't leave me (for) waiting so long
I know I was wrong
I know I was so wrong, ooh

...

I wanna come home
It's been so long I just wanna come home
