

Thousand Pieces

Kim Petras

Everything can break in two
But a heart can break into a thousand pieces
It's easy, my love
Careful what you touch because
Everything can break in two
But a heart can break into a thousand pieces
It's easy, my love
Careful what you touch because

Everything I wanted, it was in your eyes
Shining into mine, I couldn't see the signs
Beating with your heart while you were breaking mine
Into a thousand pieces
We used to be kissing but now I scream at night
Tryna put back the pieces just barely alive
Oh cara mia, I gotta leave you for a thousand reasons

Everything can break in two
But a heart can break into a thousand pieces
It's easy, my love
Careful what you touch because
Everything can break in two
But a heart can break into a thousand pieces
It's easy, my love
Careful what you touch because

Looking back, you won't find what you're looking for
You can knock on my door but I don't live there anymore
You can save your tears, but when it rains, it pours
Into a thousand pieces
I used to be on your side
But now you'll be kicking and screaming to change my mind
Oh cara mia, I gotta leave you for a thousand reasons

Everything can break in two
But a heart can break into a thousand pieces
It's easy, my love
Careful what you touch because
Everything can break in two
But a heart can break into a thousand pieces
It's easy, my love
Careful what you touch because