Some days I look outside my window Wonder where the time goes Why I throw it away

One day I'll tie up all the loose ends Ring up my best friends And have something to say

When all of the pieces fall into place

Where was I when the roof caved in? How did I get here again? Good intentions gone astray

When I get my head around What it is that keeps me down? Wouldn't that be something Something to say?

Wouldn't that be something? Wouldn't that be something?

Some days I look a little deeper There's nothing to see here No reason to stay

One day I'll rise to the occasion Accept the invitation Blow the cobwebs away

When all of the pieces fall into place

Where was I when the roof caved in? How did I get here again? Good intentions gone astray

When I get my head around What it is that keeps me down? Wouldn't that be something Something to say?

Wouldn't that be something? Wouldn't that be something? Wouldn't that be something?
