

Just One Touch

Kim Walker-Smith

I've searched the Earth
When all that I needed was just one touch
My heart is racing, my heart is changing
As I feel Your love

My soul won't rest, till I find rest in You
For there is no peace, no freedom apart from You

Here at the end of me
You are my victory
I'm trading my scars
For all that You are
For just one touch
With arms stretched open wide
Come set Your heart in mine
I'm here at Your feet
Jesus I need
Just one touch

My joy overflows
From all of Your beauty revealed to me
I will not move
Speak for Your Spirit is life to me

My soul won't rest, till I find rest in You
For there is no peace, no freedom apart from You

Here at the end of me
You are my victory
I'm trading my scars
For all that You are
For just one touch
With arms stretched open wide
Come set Your heart in mine
I'm here at Your feet
Jesus I need
Just one touch

I have been longing
I have been yearning
In reckless abandoned
Surrendered to You
I have been longing
I have been yearning
In reckless abandon
Surrendered to You

I feel Your fire
I feel Your healing
All that You are is
All that I need
And I feel Your fire
I feel Your healing
All that You are is
All that I need!

Here at the end of me

You are my victory
I'm trading my scars
For all that You are
For just one touch
With arms stretched open wide
Come set Your heart in mine
I'm here at Your feet
Jesus I need
Just one touch
