

The Glory

Kim Walker-Smith

No more assuming what You wanna do
I'll get out of the way and give You room
No more containing, the way Your Spirit moves
I'll get out of the way and give You room

I don't wanna own what belongs to You
I don't wanna own what belongs to You
The glory, the glory, the glory, the glory
No one that deserves it more than You
I fall face down when You fill the room
With glory, the glory, the glory, the glory

No more performing, I'll bring You something pure
Forever the one thing I'll pursue
Fully surrendered to no one else but You
Whatever You ask I won't refuse
I'll get out of the way and give You room

I don't wanna own what belongs to You
I don't wanna own what belongs to You
The glory, the glory, the glory, the glory
No one that deserves it more than You
I fall face down when You fill the room
With glory, the glory, the glory, the glory
The glory, the glory, the glory

Come take Your place, come take Your place
Tear down the idols we have built on every stage
No other name, no other name
You are the only One that's worthy of all praise

I don't wanna own what belongs to You
I don't wanna own what belongs to You
The glory, the glory, the glory, the glory
No one that deserves it more than You
I fall face down when You fill the room
With glory, the glory, the glory, the glory
The glory, oh
Oh, the glory, oh, the glory

Come take Your place, come take Your place
Tear down the idols we have built on every stage
No other name, no other name
You are the only One that's worthy of all praise
Come take Your place, come take Your place
Tear down the idols we have built on every stage
No other name, no other name
You are the only One that's worthy of all praise

I don't wanna own what belongs to You
I don't wanna own what belongs to You
The glory, the glory, the glory, the glory
