

Cry At Your Funeral

Kimberly Perry

It's a good, good thing I don't hang on to the bad things
I let go of all the sad things, I weed 'em all out
That's why someone like you is better off there in the rearview
Not as true as you appeared to and I see that now

I can't save it all
So I just save myself
A slow wave to send you off
I only wish you well

And I gave you my best and forgave you when you left
But my heart never goes back in time
And I laid us to rest and I'm on to the next
All my sad girl tears have run dry
Oh, I don't wanna be that late-night call, reminiscin' over alcohol
Bad love don't get a second chance
But I'll cry at your funeral and show up at your weddin' and dance

I'll wear sunglasses on my face and go and lay a white carnation
Sayonara, salutations to someone I used to know
I'll tie one on when you tie the knot, I'll toast the girl who took my spot
Drink down every drop and smile the whole way home

And I gave you my best and forgave you when you left
But my heart never goes back in time (Time, time, time)
And I laid us to rest and I'm onto the next
All my sad girl tears have run dry
Oh, I don't wanna be that late-night call, reminiscin' over alcohol
Bad love don't get a second chance
But I'll cry at your funeral and show up at your weddin' and dance

Oh (Ooh), oh (Ooh)
Hey

I can't save it all
So I just save myself
A slow wave to send you off
I only wish you well

And I gave you my best and forgave you when you left
But my heart never goes back in time (Time, time, time)
And I laid us to rest and I'm onto the next (Oh)
All my sad girl tears have run dry (All my sad, ooh)
Oh, I don't wanna be that late-night call, reminiscin' over alcohol
Bad love don't get a second chance
But I'll cry at your funeral and show up at your weddin' and dance, hey

Yeah, I'll cry at your funeral and show up at your weddin' and dance
