

days

Kina Grannis

One mile an hour is all I got
The start of a shadow in front of us
My friends keep trying to draw me out
Said you're fine with silence or fine without

There's a light that I haven't felt in days
All the times that I told myself I'd change
There's a light that I haven't felt in days
All the times that I told myself I'd change

I take appointments
You make the calls
A conversation I didn't want
Then I went walking behind the house
And I remembered

There's a light that I haven't felt in days
All the times that I told myself I'd change
There's a light that I haven't felt in days
All the times that I told myself I'd change
