

Well... murder town...
Over the last week, Flint has been leaving up to its moniker
As the most violent city in America
The attorney general's office quoted in New York Times article
Where Flint is called "Murder Town"
Another violent weekend in Flint
Were found dead this morning
In this apartment complex right behind me
While statistics are starveling...
...To discover the murder of three people...
...The victim was found in this playground behind me and the shooting up...
...Flint residents are more alarmed for their life and the lives of the closest to them...
...Dead after being shot in a playground in Flint... this is the second homicide the city of Flint in less than 24...
It's this type of crime that has led to Flint being called the most dangerous city in America
So dangerous that the New York Times article called it "Murder town"
