

Between the devil and the deep blue sea, uh huh
That's where you'll find me honey
Up in the stars we saw two black sheep, uh huh
Girl don't they look lovely

If you had a light
You could guide our way to what's right
My baby what's wrong
We don't utter their words, we sing songs and speak tongues

Sell your kids, sell their souls
They're buying those before they grow old
And I know what they say
It's better to burn out than fade away
Were lost souls
Were not gold
Never light, never shine, never shone
No, we were never stars, we don't glow
Easy to hide inside a world when we don't glow

I'll find you in any lifetime that we will live
Keep your image love, uh huh
Got me looking all the strangers in the street in the face
Don't they say we take our eyes with us

And if we had a light
We could guide our way to what's right
My lady what's wrong
We don't utter their words, we sing songs and speak tongues

Sell your kids, sell their souls
They're buying those before they grow old
And I know what they say
It's better to burn out than fade away
Were lost souls
Were not gold
Never light, never shine, never shone
No, we were never stars, we don't glow
Easy to hide inside a world when we don't glow

Easy to hide inside a world when we don't glow
You and I both know why we can't go home
We don't glow
Easy to hide inside a world where we don't glow
