

Time Of Eternity

King Charles

It seems the world is coming to an end
We can't forget our souls my friends
You won't find me moaning, you won't find me crying
Life will start at the end of time

I want to protect what we have on this earth
More important to realize our eternal worth
When space and time fall of the chart
I'll be rid of my body that disguises my heart

When I see with my heart cos they'll be no eyes
I'll see real beauty and believe no lies
And when I love, I won't need to feel
Its strength alone will prove that it's real

The end of time is the start of eternity
My last breath on earth will be my first in eternity

When I live, oh, how I'll live
And learn that love is learning to give
When I look at my hands and look at my feet
I'll have become one body with the Prince of Peace

The fulfillment of beauty has to be love
The fulfillment of love has to come from above
When I feel the darkness descend upon me
Everything in time is short compared to eternity

This mystic old world nearly had enough of us
We'll have to leave calmly without panic or fuss
And then I'll remember all the things that I've done
That I can't take back, that were bought by the Son

Because of the sadness I've caused and the abuse of the heart
Was written for me right at the start
The death of a flower is no less tragic
Than the loss of my eyes to the blackest black magic

The end of time is the start of eternity
My last breath on earth will be my first in eternity...

The end of time is the start of eternity
My last breath on earth will be my first in eternity
My last breath on earth will be my first in eternity
