

Haunted

King Conquer

when love lies beyond lies and you smiling face remains in my mind and the fights and screaming take a step back and the feeling of hate goes away at long last im left with your picture in my head Im being haunted by you by your voice by your laugh by your feeling and our past Im being haunted and your in the past one day goes and another passed I can't get rid of the last words you laughed I loved you girl you said to me that night those words engraved like an angel in satan's land. Im being haunted
