

I Was Evil

King Dude

The flashes of violence
Hang bright above our heads
Raining light into the night
Pressed so tight against the edge
Ever grinning animals
It's the spectacle of those
Who are spiritually dead
And can never live again
They were saved upon a whim
From the miracle of sin
A small secret in the sky
Is the only reason why

I was evil, I was evil
I was evil, I was evil

Where does the time go?
We all could fall so quickly
Down below, I know
You'll never know how lucky you were
Just a drop of your blood
In the palm of my hand
I wish that you could understand
How close I was to you

Back when I was evil, I was evil
I was evil, baby, I was evil
I was evil, I was evil
I was evil, I was evil
