

I'm Cold

King Dude

She said "I wanna take the Devil
Through the wilderness"
A child without a home is a child that no ones gonna miss
I looked her in her eyes
I lit her cigarette, I said
"I've been living deep in Hell and you know I'm not even sweating yet"

Don't you know that I'm cold?
Don't you know that I'm cold?
Don't you know that I'm cold?

I walked her through the night
Around that Devil's Pass
Led by the Morning Star, you know his light leads us the best
Underneath the figs
I took her small white hand
She tried to pull away and said "You can't be a living man"

"You're far too cold"
She said I was cold
I'm far too cold
She said I was cold
Don't you know that I'm cold?
I said I was cold

I said "You might be right
And your Momma might know best
But that preacher down in town is just like me under all his "best"
And if you'd be my bride
I swear I'd treat you well
You may not see that Kingdom girl but you'll be my queen in Hell"

Don't you know that you're cold?
You're just so cold
Oh, you're cold
But don't you know that you're cold?
I said you are cold
Oh, we're both so cold
Oh, we're fucking cold
