

Illuminated

King Iso

I've got illuminated manuscriptors scripted in my blood
Confusin' hate
The damned scripts are sendin' hate through love
Trinities and enemies have risen from above
The king of the underworld is now the morning sun
That's just warning one
Is this story done?
Blood up on a crucifix, my compass 'til she comes
Gather all these souls around the world, no one can run
I am just the messenger to say the time has come
Never will his art die
Technological warfare, we all have archived
Each primary direction means you're crossed twice
Spiritual enlightenment anointed from the dark side
I am just a [?] according to the essence
Made oblivion my home, ascended to the heavens
Cannibals among us just don't listen to the reverend How long can I act like "I don't know, is this the question?"

Universal ruler, how long have you been waiting?
Tantalizing tyranny, inserted through a matrix
Universal ruler, how long have you been waiting?
Drowning in the blood of fallen ones illuminated

Cultivated canvases of cryptic constellations
Constantly concluding cataclysmic conversations
Citizens cannot choose civil combinations
Wonderin' why the world is now just a wasteland
Uncertainties cause wars, murders, and burglaries
For self-validation, mutilation and surgeries
Conquering thine known race, exterminating urgently
Biblical characters live thousands, not 33
Who am I?
Everything that's living with they futile mind
Giving definition of repetition of suicide
Rebel to what you design
Literary luna-mind
Lucifer defined descendant beast, but euthanize
You and I know, I'm a demon, deity, angel
How the fuck could you consider being me?
Coming for the blood of the guards at d&e
They mentioned the worship after not defeating me
