

Change the Locks

King Princess

I have had a million bodies
And mostly it's been awesome
But you're the one for whom I want to come?
A year without no separation
Just might have broke us baby
So what's it going to take
To keep you hard
And stop your want to paint me wrong
And this don't feel so right anymore
You're losing your mind over something I wore
Just cuz it's yours
And starting to fight just to even the score
And changing the locks on your heart cuz your bored

So I guess it's over
Cuz I'm hardly sober anymore
So I guess it's over
I can hardly hold you anymore
So I guess you're feeling
Like I steal your space
And you can't be peaceful when I'm in your face
So I guess it's over
Cuz I hardly know you anymore

You have had your heart and body
Turned to someone's hobby
I'm the one who put you in your place
A year or so we spent together

Nights and days were tethered
So what's it gonna take to make it stop
And throw you off when I look hot
And this don't feel so right anymore
You're changing the locks on your heart
Cuz you're bored

So I guess it's over
Cuz I'm hardly sober anymore
So I guess it's over
I can hardly hold you anymore
So I guess you're feeling
Like I steal your space
And you can't be peaceful when I'm in your face
So I guess it's over
Cuz I hardly know you anymore

And you think it's all for nothing
But you're everything I've wanted
And the end is near you promised
But I'm just getting started
And you think it's all for nothing
You're everything I've wanted
And the end is near you promised
But I'm just getting started
