

Watching My Phone

King Princess

And I know you
Destroy the things you love to save yourself
And I'm passing through your life

And I know you
Can't bear to see me go, but make me leave
In the middle of the night

(Maybe it will change but)
You ain't all I've ever wanted in a package
And your independence throws me off my balance
And I'm alone
Watching my phone
Thinking 'bout you baby
Watching my phone
Thinking 'bout you

And I know I
Can't be the million girls you're going to meet
And I think that's alright

I apologize
For holding you so tight you couldn't breathe
And thinking you'd be fine

(Maybe it will change, but)
You ain't all I've ever wanted in a package
And your independence throws me off my balance
And I'm alone
Watching my phone
Thinking 'bout you baby
Watching my phone
Thinking 'bout you

Watching my phone
Thinking 'bout you baby
Watching my phone
Maybe it will change, but

Watching my phone
Thinking 'bout you baby
Watching my phone
Thinking 'bout you

Thinking 'bout you
Thinking 'bout you
Maybe it will change, but
