

Between Now and Forever

Kingcrow

Now those men that made me dress
In the dresses of a stranger
What a truth they did revealed
Not a thing I can remind...

All these days would have passed
In a state without emotions
And the nights were so alive
With the dancers in my head

Fly between now and forever
Fractures break up my way
Fly between now and forever
My dreams begin to twist

My confusion make me feel
As if someone's trying to cheating
Coldness tightens up my heart
In its vice of stunning lies

What reaction ever have
Who's unjustly guilty blaming
Like him I await for lights
That would make me realize