Don't Remember

Kingdom Come

You keep on saying another time Saying don't worry I will be fine Wasting your days till the day you die

Eyes looking down Frowns rushing all around Ooohh

Don't remember your name Too much pain killed the flame No one here you can blame

The preacher so clear giving strong advise Still cannot help when the starving die The future relying on rolling dice

Eyes looking down Frowns rushing all around Ooohh

Don't remember your name Too much pain killed the flame No one here you can blame

Don't remember your name
Too much pain killed the flame
