I was a sinner
And I was a saint
I was alone and aiming down, you took the weight
You were a diamond
We were just kids
Bending the rules and staying out was all we did

And oh, we were coming down to the sounds of the rain
And all told, the fire in your eyes couldn't hide all the pain

But it don't matter
I can't change the way this falls
I'll keep my head down
Heavy with the sound of the final call
Maybe I could change our yesterday
Maybe I could find the words to say
But it don't matter, oh

I was a liar
I couldn't change
Searching for the strength to hide my chains
We were the dragons
Burning the wind
Chasing the night and playing games we couldn't win

And oh, I've been coming down to the sounds of the rain
And all told, the fire in my eyes couldn't hide all the pain

But it don't matter
I can't change the way this falls
I'll keep my head down
Heavy with the sound of the final call
Maybe I could change our yesterday
Maybe I could find the words to say
But it don't matter, woah

Vancouver, Vancouver
Vancouver, I know I lost to you
Vancouver, Vancouver
Vancouver, I know I lost to you
Vancouver, Vancouver
Vancouver, I know I lost to you
Vancouver, Vancouver
Vancou-, oh

But it don't matter
I can't change the way this falls
I'll keep my head down
Heavy with the sound of the final call
Maybe I could change our yesterday
Maybe I could find the words to say
It don't matter, oh
