

Believe

King's X

If your back is pinned against the wall
And the stress is killing you
And the cross you carry on your back
Makes it hard for you to move

In yourself believe, it's all right
In yourself believe, you're all right

If you ran away to lose your soul
But you're scared to death you're wrong
If you're past the point of turning back
And your innocence is gone

In yourself believe, it's all right
In yourself believe, you're all right

If it's something that you can't forget
What somebody did to you
If you've had your fill of being down
Then there's nothing, nothing left to prove

In yourself believe, it's all right
In yourself believe, you're all right

In yourself believe, it's all right
In yourself believe, you're all right

Believe in yourself, it's all right
It's all right, it's all right
It's all right, yeah
Believe what I say
Oh, listen
Yeah, yeah-yeah
It's all right, it's all right
Don't fight the feeling
It's all right
