

Fire and Flame

Kip Moore

I met the hunger, and it took my hand
Got lost in wonder of a sinful land
Yeah I took the drink, I liked the taste,
I burned the smoke, I sparked the blaze
That left me wantin'
It left me wantin
When I was desperate, and I lost my faith
I found an angel in a broken place
She led me out when I went astray
She showed me peace, she lit the way
Gave me comfort
She brought me comfort

She led me out, when I went astray
She showed me peace, she lit the way
Gave me comfort

I guess I'm stuck out in the middle
Cause I got this reckless heart that I can't tame
Just when I think I've reigned it in a little
I'm still somewhere between the fire and flame
Someday I might find my way to heaven
Lord I hope there's still room on that train
But if you're looking for me tonight, I'll be out here burning bright
Somewhere between the fire and flame

I met a wise man
With a golden key
Deep in the shadows
Of a lonely street
He had a love there in his eyes
That perfect peace I recognized
I knew I wanted, I knew I wanted
He spoke the truth reached out to me
He took my hand I shook it free
Kept on walking

I guess I'm stuck out in the middle
Cause I got this reckless heart that I can't tame
Just when I think I've reigned it in a little
I'm still somewhere between the fire and flame
Someday I might find my way to heaven
Lord I hope there's still room on that train
But if you're looking for me tonight, I'll be out here burning bright
Somewhere between the fire and flame

Someday I'll get where I'm going
Until then I'll keep on floating
Out here
Somewhere between the fire and flame

I guess I'm stuck out in the middle
Cause I got this reckless heart that I can't tame
Just when I think I've reigned it in a little
I'm still somewhere between the fire and flame
Someday I might find my way to heaven
Lord I hope there's still room on that train

But if you're looking for me tonight, I'll be out here burning bright
Somewhere between the fire and flame

Someday I might find my way to heaven
And Lord I hope there's still room on that train
If you're looking for me tonight, I'll be out here burning bright
Somewhere between the fire and flame
