

Learning As I Go

Kip Moore

Well, I came into this world
Like a fighter on the ropes
Like a thumb stuck out in the wind
On the shoulder of the road
Some tumbleweed just rolling on
Not sure where to blow
With every twist and every turn
I'm learning as I go

Well, I'm learning as I go
I'm learning how to be
I'm learning how when I break it down
There's little that I need
Say sorry man when you need to and
Keep a pocket full of hope
I'm still a gun, but I've settled some
I'm learning as I go

I took a loose deal in a tight spot
It came back to bite me bad
Had a feeling in my gut
But I still shook his hand
He ran with all my money
Left me with the bag
Had to sell my truck, couldn't pay the note
I'm learning as I go

I'm learning as I go
I'm learning how to be
I'm learning how when I break it down
There's little that I need
Say sorry man when you need to and
Keep a pocket full of hope
I'm still a gun, but I've settled some
I'm learning as I go

Still crashing, still burning
This old world keeps turning
Got a roadmap full of scars and
A pocket full of hope
I'm learning as I go
I'm learning as I go

I broke her heart on a Tuesday
When I spoke the word "goodbye"
By Friday I was empty as that fifth of July sky
When I saw her hold that other hand
It's like I saw a ghost
Little too slow on the trigger, oh
I'm learning as I go

I'm learning as I go
I'm learning how to fly
Maybe I might get it right
Someday before I die
I'm learning as I go
I'm learning how to be

I'm learning how when I break it down
Say sorry man when you need to and
I'm still a gun, but I've settled some
I'm learning as I go

As I go, yeah
As I go
I'm learning as I go
I'm learning as I go
As I go
