

One Heartbeat

Kip Moore

You're my honey, you're my bee, you're my sweet in my sugar cane
You're my logic, you're my reason, when the whole world's gone insane
You're my harbor, you're my compass, you're my boat when my seas get rough
And you're the only place I really wanna rest when I've had enough
I've had enough

One heartbeat and you got nothin'
But make it two, baby, you got somethin'
This world ain't meant to travel all alone
So, take my hand and all my lovin'
We won't need any luck and
I promise you I'll hold it 'til I'm dead and gone
With one heartbeat

You're my past, you're my present, you're my future in a sky of blue
In a world of lies, you're a constant bond of truth
And you're my rock, you're my feather, always tethered to your solid ground
The kind of diamond when ya find it you can't believe you finally found
Just look around, baby

One heartbeat and you got nothin'
But make it two, baby, you got somethin'
This world ain't meant to travel all alone
So, take my hand and all my lovin'
We won't need any luck and
I promise you I'll hold it 'til I'm dead and gone
With one heartbeat

One lone sound
Girl, I can't believe that I finally found
Just look around

You're my healing when I break, kinda simple, you're my strong firm hand
I got a million things I want, but I only need to be your man

With one heartbeat and you got nothin'
But make it two, baby, you got somethin'
This world ain't meant to travel all alone
All alone
So, take my hand and all my lovin'
We won't need any luck and
I promise you I'll hold it 'til I'm dead and gone
With one heartbeat
With one heartbeat

One heartbeat, one heartbeat, one heartbeat
One heartbeat, one heartbeat
