

Ocean

Kirlian Camera

When the lights are falling down I hear the echoes of your words so near to me
The blue islands of my eyes are fading slowly into a cage of velvet rain
Ray of despair
Ray of despair
Rain over me

There's a thin line across the sea and a red circle in the sand Horizons left...
In every moment of the night
I call the winter in your name your missing name

Let me be ocean rays
A snowy park into the fire
Let me be ocean rays
A silver death beside the sun
that has called for years
inside my soul
That has called for years
inside my soul

The gates are closed in glassy days in books of memories and pain and smiling hours
I hold your hand in silence still A frozen desert without time
The golden gift
Mornings of rain
Mornings of rain

Let me be ocean rays
A snowy park into the fire
Let me be ocean rays
A silver death beside the sun
Let me be far from here
A distant scream into the light Let me be a raising dawn and like a dawn
just like a dawn
shine over me.
