

Seasons of the World

Kirlian Camera

God dies in the mind of those who are unable to stay Now sit down and wait for wait for your end

While the rays of light are shutting you up while your eyes are sparkling pain while your heart does not succeed in saying a word anymore

Do you recognise the smile of that man?
Do you remember about him?
There are no more memories... and what remains is just wondering what happened before who did you see and kill?
Think...
It shouldn't have been this way
Now, all that remains is laughing
