

Theme from Jerome (Forgotten Words)

Kishi Bashi

After today
You speak the new
With every word you walk
From the comfort of my hands
And after all
We fight the war
Of enemies unseen and here we are in Jerome

These words today
How many times I'd smile
If you'd remember me in this song

There was a girl
She fell in love
And on the sundried
Land they settled in and started again
And when they sleep
She'd sing this melody
To her beloved sons
