

Why Don't You Answer Me

Kishi Bashi

Hey, I never said I would be unbeatable
'Cause the words you said, they cut so deep
And when you turn to speak
It's murder

One time I was in love with you
You make the earth move
Every day was born for me and you
(Woo hoo hoo)
The world's still turning

Endlessly, you make it seem your sacred, silent heart
Why don't you answer me?
Why don't you answer me?

All the kings and princes cannot break this quiet siege
Tearing me at the seams
What is left of me?

Hey, before there were three
There was one
The loneliest of all the numbers
There was me
It's sad to see

Whether you were right or wrong
Who am I to judge?
The massacre of our conscience
That I caused in my dreams
Dreams

Endlessly, you make it seem your sacred, silent heart
Why don't you answer me?
Why don't you answer me?

All the kings and princes cannot break this quiet siege
Tearing me at the seams
What is left of me?
