

Don't Get Me Wrong

Kitty in a Casket

When I look at you, i don't even have a clue, what you think or what you do, you just sit there, like there is no need to care, but it won't fade away, by looking away.

Can't you see what's wrong outside your life, it's not all bout joy and sunlight, i have enough of your oh so funny blogs, it's wiser to think outside the box, i feel so sick when i see you face, i mean you when i shout out loud,

R.: Don't get me wrong ,
yeah, this is just a song,
i don't want to offend you or anyone
Don't get me wrong,
why don't you come along
Get a sense of what's right and what is wrong

There is no use for you, to change a thing you do as long as it doesn't affect you, even if it's the case, it will fall right into place, daddy's gonna make it alright, all you do is sitting in you room, lock the doors, lock out the evil, swallow you pride, there's no need to hide, put all your fears aside

R.: Don't get me wrong ,
yeah, this is just a song,
i don't want to offend you or anyone
Don't get me wrong,
why don't you come along
Get a sense of what's right and what is wrong

We finally need to start to open your hearts, don't just sweat it, do something about it, start a riot, keep on thinking, we're taking our lives in our hands, then you won't feel sick when you see your face, oh, come on let's talk about it
