

Cheatin's a Sin

Kitty Wells

You're in the arms of another, where you've no right to be
We've made vows together, your love isn't free
You're making your plans now, our love's gone with the wind
You're cheating on me dear, and cheating's a sin

The love in your eyes dear, for me has grown dim
I keep trying to hold you but my chances are slim
I might as well face it, I'm just a has-been
You're cheating I'm losing, but cheating's a sin

Though you are unfaithful, you're still in my heart
You're in love with another, you play a double part
Why don't you change dear? For cheaters can't win
You'll never be happy for cheating's a sin

Can you honestly tell me our love isn't real?
Just pick for your ownself, I know how I feel
I'll carry your mem'ry, though our love must end
You're cheating on me dear, and cheating's a sin
