

Blessings > Problems

KJ-52

I ain't count my problems only count my blessings
Even when the life I got is getting stressing
I ain't even worried when it gets depressing
Never count your problems only count your blessings

I don't count my problems only count my blessings
Even when this life I got is getting stressing
I ain't even worried when it gets depressing
Never count your problems only count your blessings

Lord help me just to be quick to listen slow to speak
Stay down to earth just like a tire with the slowest leak
My heart is willing plus I'm tired plus I know I'm weak
So I desire a little extra fire when I go to speak

Turn the key grab the wheel and then I rode the beat
I got the devil on my heels Jesus broke his teeth
I got the hope and peace man I can go and sleep
So you can head to Arbys just right there if you want to roast the beef

He died on Friday but rose in three
I'm a hit the highway cause I know I'm free
I ain't do it my way man I know he leads
And I ain't stressing when I'm on my knees cause he knows my needs

Don't tell me I still got it when I never lost it
Been flipping phonics just right there since the tips was frosted
In the mix since 86 and I'm just getting started
And I ain't stressing on my problems cause my God is awesome

I ain't count my problems only count my blessings
Even when the life I got is getting stressing
I ain't even worried when it gets depressing
Never count your problems only count your blessings

I don't count my problems only count my blessings
Even when this life I got is getting stressing
I ain't even worried when it gets depressing
Never count your problems only count your blessings

Count my blessing not my problems thats the whole mood
Until my life reflects the sun just like the whole moon
I'm on the run trusting you through all I go through
And stay away from beef just like a vegan up in whole foods

When it fall apart your the one I hold to Stay in the cut just like a needle in an old groove
I know that your enough cause your the one I go to
When life be hitting harder than these punches thrown from goku

I got an old soul I'm rocking new shoes
I got that soul glow thats the new new
I drop a phone call to the only one I call to
And I pray your name is all up on the roll when he calls you

This is all true I kept on changing man
Like how I went from triple X pants to H and M

I lost the whole world now just to gain a friend
It's amazing when I'm seeing all of this change within

I ain't count my problems only count my blessings
Even when the life I got is getting stressing
I ain't even worried when it gets depressing
Never count your problems only count your blessings

I don't count my problems only count my blessings
Even when this life I got is getting stressing
I ain't even worried when it gets depressing
Never count your problems only count your blessings
