Calling Out Your Name

Klangkarussell

Oh, I just lost my place in the sun I used to go
Like nowhere else
Something's taking over, a tingle tip to toe
Can't save myself

Hey, will you excuse me? No one told me you'd be Leaving when the morning comes

I keep calling out your name
I keep calling out your name
Keep calling out your name
I keep calling out your name

I'm dreaming 'bout the break-up every time I wake up
I'm on my own
Two doors down to laughing, to drinking wild and dancing
But you should know

Nothing's gonna stop me, darling you know I'll be Singing till you come back home

I keep calling out your name
I keep calling out your name
Keep calling out your name
I keep calling out your name

Baby, come back home
Save me, come back home
I need your love, come back home
So tell me, come back home

I keep calling out your name
I keep calling out your name
Keep calling out your name
I keep calling out your name

Baby, come back home
Save me, come back home
I need your love, come back home
So tell me, come back home

(I keep calling out your name)
Baby, come back home
Save me, come back home
(I keep calling out your name)
I need your love, come back home
So tell me, come back home
(Keep calling out your name)
Baby, come back home
Save me, come back home
(I keep calling out your name)
I need your love, come back home
So tell me, come back home
(I keep calling out your name)
Baby, come back home
Save me, come back home
(I keep calling out your name)

I need your love, come back home
So tell me, come back home
(Keep calling out your name)
Baby, come back home
Save me, come back home
(I keep calling out your name)
I need your love, come back home
Come back home
